

AMR Ehab

FRONT END DEVELOPER

About me . . .

I'm a Front-End Developer and University Student passionate about building modern web applications.

- Skilled in modern technologies with a focus on performance optimization and client-side security. Prioritize a global understanding of front-end development, making it easy to adapt to new technologies when needed.
- I can build simple full-stack apps with Express & MySQL/MongoDB and handle basic deployments to understand the app production cycle, though back-end isn't my focus.
- Strong problem-solving skills, proven through HackerRank certifications and real-world projects.

And because of it is my first job, I'm Seeking to apply my skills and contribute to an innovative team.
